LAID ON THE TABLE

Board of Supervisors Avoid Tackling Officers Fees.

TABLED IT BY A PARTY VOTE

The Chances of Its Resurrection Appear Doubtful-January Session of the Supervisors Will End Today.

By an almost strictly party vote, the resolution requiring that the fees collected by salaried county officers be turned into the county treasury, was tabled by the board of supervisors yesterday. Consequently there has been no expression of the board on the subject, which has been referred, re-re-ject, which has been referred, re-referred and discussed throughout the 73 Monroe street. October and January sessions, and unless someone succeeds in getting the resolution off from the table today the board will have adjourned without having changed the situation after all. It was difficult to see how politics should have so entered into an action affecting one republican and one democratic officer, (register Gould not claiming any fees), but so it was. Unfortunately the resolution had been fathered by a democrat and the notion that a cutting off of the fees of the clerk would smount to more than the same action as to the treasurer seemed to prevail. The opinion of the majority action as to the treasurer seemed to prevail. The opinion of the majority was that the action of the board would be of no effect as interpreting the law and they believed it of no avail to declare themselves either way.

The special order being reached, viz: the resolution to the effect that the register, clerk and treasurer turn over all fees and earnings of their offices to the county treasurer as the property of the county. Mr. Scenis the property of the county, Mr. Sceels moved to lay the resolution on the No Use of Action.

Mr. Loomis contended that the reports and opinions furnished the board. after discussing the situation, merely returned to the starting point and re-ferred to the statute. He believed an action of the board would not effect the matter.

Mr. Hogadone said he believed that the board should put itself on record as for or against the question.

Other members expressed themselves pro and con in a way which showed that party lines were being drawn. The vote to table the resolution proved this. Mr. Gill was the only democrat who voted to table and Chairman Page

it. The former said afterwards that he voted under a misapprehension.

The result was: Yeas—Messrs Benjamin, Braman, Cogshall, Coison, Emmons, Gill, Holben, Hyde, Jones, Ladner, Lathrop, Lee, Leppink, Lindemulder, Look, Loomis, Montgomery, Proctor, Skeels, Smith, Smits, Walker, Warner, Watkins, Woodworth E. C., Woodworth W. F.—26.

Nays—Fehsenfeld, Frost, Hill, Hodges, Hogadone, Kinney, O'Leary, Rosenberg, Schermerhorn, Solomon, Ulrich, Ward, Chairman—13.

The poor house building committee

The poor house building committee recommended that the payment for incomplete contracts for furnishing be paid from the general committee when properly certified to by the committee.

An Adverse Report.

The petition of Sheriff Lamoreaux for a private office to be partitioned off one of the jury rooms in the court house was reported back by the committee on buildings without recommendation. The same committee reported the office of Circuit Court Commissioner McGill too small for jury trisis and recommended cutting a door-

treasurer was formally directed to turn over to the Kent County Savings bank the county moneys, placing same to credit of the county, and that the same be payable to the county treasurer on order of the chairman and clerk of the

The old subject of the claim of J. D. Boland, sub-contractor on the court house building, was revived by a communication from Mr. Boland, asking for copies of estimates and orders pay-ing for the work. After several motions and some discussion Mr. Boland was finally allowed to have access to the matter "provided that all copies or reference to such matter be under personal supervision of the chairman of the court house building committee."
